Ragtime Revelations Concert

$26

2:00 to 3:30 pm at Liberty Center

Today's Masters of Yesterday's Music

The original ragtime era began in the late 1890's and ended seemingly with Joplin's death in 1917. The ragtime revival, which began around the time of the Academy Award winning movie "The Sting" is still going strong. This concert showcases today's top contemporary ragtime composers and artists. Emcee William McNally
Featuring: Taslimah Bey, Bill Edwards, Holland & Coots, Carl Sonny Leyland, William McNally, Oliver Moore, John Reed-Torres, Martin Spitznagel

Donor Party By invitation only to Performers, Donors and Sponsors

5:30 to 7:00 pm at Commerce Building located

Ragtime Rarities & Rediscoveries -

Rediscovering Trebor Jay Tichenor Concert

$31

7:30 to 9:30 pm at Liberty Center

In this concert, we pay tribute to the legacy and the music of performer, composer, author, and historian Trebor Jay Tichenor. In the mid-to-late 1970's, two folios – "Ragtime Rarities" (Dover, c1975), and "Ragtime Rediscoveries" (Dover, c1979) – were published and would shine a broader light on seldom-heard rags from original ragtime era. The music featured here is either from the folios or composed by Trebor, himself. Emcee Virginia Tichenor

Featuring: Crown Syncopators, Neville Dickie, Bill Edwards, Marty Eggers, Alex Hassan, Frederick Hodges, William McNally, Dave Majchrzak, Oliver Moore, John Reed-Torres, The Rhythmia, Dalton Ridenhour, Martin Spitznagel, Virginia Tichenor, Bryan Wright.

9:00 am at Liberty Center

Jeff Barnhart - Tales from the Road – This storied musician will attempt to unstory himself with anecdotes from his life (and sometimes near-death) as a working musician with a musical spouse. There will be laughter. Oh yes, laughter, and a tear or two.

10:00 am at Liberty Center

Documentary film - All the Keys and Then Some:– Tom McDermott introduces a 90 minute film on pianos and pianists, including scenes with Trebor Tichenor and his busy basement, David Thomas Roberts at home, Scott Kirby performing outdoors in New Orleans, and some of Tom's pianocraft as well.

The Legacy of Scott Joplin Concert

$26

2:00 to 3:30 pm at Liberty Center

One could not possibly have a festival named after Scott Joplin without at least one concert that exclusively features the Father of Ragtime Music. Join us as we pay tribute to the man who would become the face of syncopation, and a man destined to influence ragtime composers and aficionados for generations to come. Emcee Frederick Hodges

Featuring: Taslimah Bey, Marty Eggers, Bill Edwards, Frederick Hodges, Ivory & Gold, Tom McDermott, David Reffkin, Virginia Tichenor, Bryan Wright
